CONFERENCE SPONSORSHIP, CAREER FAIR, AND ADVERTISING OPPORTUNITIES

MANRRS will convene its 34th Annual Career Fair and Training Conference in Overland Park, Kansas. We invite you to assist MANRRS in promoting diversity and leadership through sponsorship, exhibiting at the Career Fair, and advertising in the Conference Program book. Corporations, governmental agencies, organizations, and institutions, of all sizes can find a level of financial support in this program that provides the desired impact, fits your budget, and enables your organization to showcase your opportunities, products and services to a unique audience of professionals and interested students. This program details a myriad opportunities to highlight your brand during conference activities; showcase and exhibit your organization at Career Fair booths; and, gain exposure through the placement of advisements in the Conference Program book. At the 33rd Annual Conference, in Greensboro, NC, more than 1,200 students and professionals were in attendance. We anticipate another successful meeting in Overland Park in 2019 with hopes to supersede this number in conjunction with our 4th Annual Diversity Summit. Your commitment and financial support will secure the appropriate exposure and benefits such as a premier exhibit booth location at the Career Fair. Opportunities are offered on a first-come, first-serve basis— so don't delay, sign up today! The sooner you respond, the greater the likelihood that your preferred option will be available.

2019 NATIONAL MANRRS PARTNERS

We would like to thank our current sponsoring organizations for their support of the National Society for MANRRS:

NATIONAL MANRRS OVERVIEW

Overview of the Society

The National Society for Minorities in Agriculture, Natural Resources, and Related Sciences (MANRRS) is a national, non-profit organization that promotes and fosters the inclusion of underrepresented minorities in agriculture, natural resources and related sciences disciplines. MANRRS establishes partnerships among its student and professional members and individuals from private industry, government, academia and non-profit organizations in a nurturing environment that promotes scholarly excellence, professional development, networking, and career placement. This is accomplished through the many activities at individual chapters, cluster/regional events and at the Annual National Training Conference and Career Fair.

MANRRS began as a vision shared by agricultural students and faculty at Michigan State University (MSU) and the Pennsylvania State University (PSU). The goal was to develop a network among minority students in agriculture, natural resources and related sciences and professionals from academic institutions, government, and industry. Their commitment led to the first national MANRRS conference, which was held at MSU in 1986. Today, the mission of the Society continues to be the promotion of the academic and professional advancement of its members by empowering minorities in agriculture, natural resources, and related sciences. Our motto is “Changing the face of agriculture by linking hands around the world.”

MANRRS Specific Objectives

- Create an environment for mentorship, fellowship and networking among students, faculty, staff, administrators, representatives from government agencies and industry from across the nation;
- Increase the number of students in agricultural sciences, natural resources, and related fields at the undergraduate and graduate levels;
- Encourage scholarly achievement, advancement and excellence among members;
- Promote career and academic counseling for undergraduate and graduate students;
- Enhance the academic performance, research aptitude, leadership skills, and professional development of members;
- Increase the awareness and direct involvement of sponsors and students;
- Ensure that all student members are prepared to meet the needs of the 21st century workforce; and
- Provide sponsors with talented graduates to fill their employment needs in agricultural sciences, natural resources and related sciences.

MANRRS MEMBERSHIP PROFILES AND BENEFITS

Currently, MANRRS operates at the local, regional, and national levels. At the local level, there are more than sixty collegiate chapters located in 38 states and Puerto Rico; some of which sponsor high school students (Jr. MANRRS Chapters). As part of their leadership development and professional training, student members are elected as officers at the local, regional and national levels. Chapters hold local meetings that emphasize topics, such as philanthropy/ community service, career awareness and development, MANRRS awareness, résumé and cover letter preparation, meeting facilitation, and interviewing skills. Local chapters also host events, which draw students from other schools and colleges on campus, in order to promote the mission of the National Society.

At the regional level, local MANRRS Chapters are geographically grouped together into six Regions across the country. Annually, Cluster Workshops are held to draw students from multiple regions together for leadership and professional development workshops, and also foster networking opportunities. Sponsors often participate as workshop presenters, and in some cases, they host mini-Career Fairs. At both the local and regional levels, professional members and sponsors often take advantage of these opportunities to interact with the students on a one-on-one basis.

At the national level, MANRRS holds its Annual National Training Conference and Career Fair at which members meet to promote diversity in agriculture, natural resources, and the related sciences. Key functions of the Conference include the promotion of high school, undergraduate, and graduate scholarship and networking. This event, by far, is the largest single event of the Society, as it generally attracts more than 1,200 student members, professionals and sponsors. The Conference usually offers keynote addresses by prominent leaders, workshop sessions as well as contests, such as Oral Research, Poster Research, Written Essay, Public Speaking, and Chapter-of-the-Year. Also, the National Conference sponsors one of the largest agricultural and natural resources Career Fairs for underrepresented minorities in the country. At this event, employers obtain the added benefit of meeting with students and young professionals directly to discuss internship and permanent employment opportunities. In addition to student training, MANRRS offers its professional members professional development training via workshops that are conducted by its sponsors.

MANRRS MEMBERSHIP PROFILES AND BENEFITS

To increase diversity in agriculture, natural resources, and related sciences for the current and future workforce, MANRRS continues to successfully bring together members and participants from federal agencies, academia, non-profit organizations, business and industry. Membership in the National Society is open to people of all racial, cultural, and ethnic backgrounds who support the organization's mission and its objective of increasing diversity in agriculture natural resources and related sciences careers. The current national membership is 2,050; sixty percent of the membership is female, while 40% is male. The membership body includes 1,070 Undergraduates, 204 Graduate Students, 208 Professionals, and 568 Jr. MANRRS (high school) members from diverse ethnic backgrounds and an array of academic disciplines.

MANRRS members also receive leadership and career training through scholarship activities, including research contests, essay contests, career development workshops and more! MANRRS is committed to ensuring that its members are prepared for agricultural, natural resources and related sciences careers before and after graduation, by working closely with sponsors to develop and deliver state-of-the art-training opportunities for members at the local, regional, and national levels.
